Viventium, a SaaS-based human capital management solution, achieved the Highest User Adoption award based on the responses of real users for each of the payroll and HR software-related questions featured in the G2 review form.

"Viventium is proud to be consistently recognized in G2 reports," said Julieann Esper Rainville, Viventium's Chief Executive Officer. "These accolades confirm the strength of our payroll and HR software suite built for the healthcare industry."

Viventium achieved Highest User Adoption on the payroll and HR software reports by receiving positive reviews from verified users compared to similar products in the payroll and HR software categories. For inclusion in these reports, a product must have received ten or more reviews.

"Rankings on G2 reports are based on data provided to us by real software buyers," said Sara Rossio, Chief Product Officer at G2. "Potential buyers know they can trust these insights when researching and selecting software because they're rooted in vetted, verified, and authentic reviews."
